

CRAWFORD UNIVERSITY
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
UNIVERSITY EXAMINATIONS 2019/2020 SESSION HARMATTAN SEMESTER
FULL TITLE OF EXAM: B.SC. POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
COURSE TITLE: LOGIC AND METHODS OF POLITICAL ENQUIRY
COURSE CODE: 301 PSR

Instruction: Answer one and two others

Time Allowed: Two hours

1. As a research student, formulate a researchable topic and write a proposal with emphasis on the background and problematic areas.
2. Arguments have trailed the political science as a discipline because the subject laid emphasis on "man" as the unity of analysis. Discuss the summation of David Easton with attention on his eight credos to justify your position.
3. A questionnaire is one of the techniques of data collection from many respondents. Identify and discuss the types of questionnaires known to you.
4. The sources of data collections are numerous. Discuss with relevant examples two types of data.
5. To guide against data plagiarism, discuss with examples ethics in research writing.